ENGLAND TODAY REDUCED HER RATE OF DISCOUNT

British Government Announces Discount of 4 1-2 Per Cent the Lowest Since the World War in 1914—Better Business Feeling.

(By Associated Press)

London, Feb. 16.—Bang! England today reduced the rate of discount to 4 1-2 per cent. The rate has been 5 per cent since November 3, 1921. It was reduced from 5 1-2 established preceding July 21, 1921. Today's action was a forecast of a London dispatch last night. The highest rate was reached in August, 1914, after the outbreak of the world war. The figure set today is the lowest since the outbreak of the war. There is better business feeling prevailing.

WOMAN ATTORNEY OF DALLAS ANNOUNCES FOR THE LEGISLATURE

(By Associated Press)

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 16.—Mrs. Edith E. Williams, a Dallas attorney late yesterday announced her candidacy for the state legislature opposing Representative John Davis of Dallas county for re-election. She is said to be the first woman in Texas history to seek election to the state legislature. Mrs. Williams, in her announcement said she was guided by the necessity for legislation for women and children and would conduct her own campaign which would be intensive. (Editorial note—The above is probably an error as Miss Katie Daffan, of Houston, is already a candidate for the legislature from Harris county.—Editor.)

BOLL WEEVIL TAKE REFUGE IN THE WEEDS

Temple, Texas, Feb. 16.—Boll-weevils have taken refuge in large numbers in bloodweeds and sunflowers along fence rows and in low-lying places on the farm and unless these weeds are raked and burned within the next few weeks, the weevils will come forth in the spring and destroy cotton squares as fast as the plant can put them on, according to S. B. Wooley, cotton grower of this section. Mr. Wooley was in Temple recently with a number of bloodweeds to back up his assertion. The weevils had bored their way up through the pith of the weeds and from five to seven were found in some of the stalks. Thirty weevils were found imbedded in the center of five weeds pulled at random from Mr. Wooley's farm.

Bryan and Brazos County Are Now Interested in Forestry

(By County Agent C. L. Beason)

Great projects, often times, from small beginnings grow. Principles, eternal, actuating men and women in their relation to nature, will live, though, seemingly stifled, often times, by indifference, or lost sight of through our mad rush for material and ephemeral things of life. Man is a part of nature, yet nature all about us bears evidence of gross neglect. To correct this condition agitation of tree planting and the inculcation in the minds of our people, especially our younger people, a greater love and respect for trees are two essentials necessary in order to attain the highest ideals, or the most lasting results. While we do not live at the foot of the snow-capped Alps and beneath blue Italian, or Grecian skies, such as would inspire a Homer or a Virgil in song or story, yet we have those indefatigable men and women who believe that our fields, meadows, woodlands, highways and by-ways may be made to approach ideals of nature and nature's God, furnish charms and retreats for the ennobling of mankind. Such was the spirit of the committee and others who met at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon to discuss further the matter of tree planting for Bryan and Brazos county.

The three representatives from the women's clubs were: Mrs. Dora Wilson of the Reading Club; Mrs. J. Webb Howell of the Woman's Club; Mrs. S. C. Williams of the Parent-Teachers' Association; City Manager E. E. McAdams and Editor Lee J. Rountree being the two men selected on the committee.

In the absence of applications for demonstrations in home beautification, as proposed in the former meeting, much of the time was given to discussion of the needs of beautifying the Bryan-College road. The possibilities of a beautiful highway were easily pictured after Mrs. W. S. Howell's vivid description of hundreds and hundreds of miles of tree-fringed roadway she traveled over through Germany and other countries of Europe.

Mr. A. D. Jackson, director Publicity, Experiment Station, stated that the first thing to be considered in the project of beautifying the College road was the matter of proper engineering, and then the formation of a forestry improvement district in order that the work might be permanent and dependable. He also stated how this might be easily done and this road made one of the most beautiful in all the country, and if it were so beautified he would be delighted to live on it.

Mr. Lee J. Rountree spoke of the beauty of the Bankhead Highway, and other splendid highways through many of the Southern states and he said that since he had assisted the forestry law he would be glad to see it put into operation here where thousands of the boys in A. and M. College from all over Texas might observe its possibilities in the reforestation of cutover lands in Texas. Mr. Rountree gave first place to the pecan, peach, the live oak, and the pine among the trees, and ornamental tree, the yaupon for this section, and that the Ness-berry stood alone and above, other berries in "tickling" the gustatory nerve.

Professor H. Ness, of College, who is considered authority by all departments at the College, when it comes to matters of horticulture, made a most interesting and helpful address. Interesting, because of his familiarity with every kind of plant and type of soil and their relation, one to the other; helpful, because several present discovered the reason why they had, heretofore, failed in tree planting, while, perhaps others were advised of errors to avoid. Mr. Ness mentioned the worst soil and clay in Texas for trees, among them being willow, pin oak, Spanish or red oak, live oak, Italian cypress, yaupon, long leaf pine, etc., giving the characteristics of each and the methods by which each should be transplanted and tended.

Among those present at the meeting were: Mrs. W. S. Howell, Mrs. S. C. Williams, Mrs. Dora Wilson, A. W. Buchanan, Mrs. J. Webb Howell, Major W. R. Cavitt, A. D. Jackson, H. Ness, E. E. McAdams, C. L. Beason and Lee J. Rountree. Mr. McAdams is chairman of the committee of five, and will be glad to call a meeting of his committee, or a general meeting, at any time the interest of tree planting can be served. The committee will also be glad to help select a few places willing to undertake the work of home beautification, the College specialists doing the planting, etc., the owner of the property paying whatever may be necessary to provide shrubbery, etc. It was pointed out that now practically nothing but evergreens could be planted out, but the work could be planned and the deciduous trees and shrubs planted next year. FARM LABOR GROWN MORE EFFICIENT IN PAST FORTY YEARS

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., Feb. 16.—The most significant index of fundamental progress in American agriculture is probably found in the fact that, measured by the production of grain, the efficiency of farm labor in the United States increased 45 per cent in the 40 years from 1870 to 1910. A. R. Mann, dean of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University told those attending Farmers' Week at the Ohio State University here recently.

"The fact that American cities have grown so enormously is testimony to an increased efficiency of farm labor. Many workers have been freed for work in city industries. In 1820, 87 per cent of all Americans gainfully employed were in agriculture. In 1910, only 33 per cent of our population, so engaged, raised enough for the whole group and a considerable surplus for export. This is striking evidence of a wonderful increase in the efficiency of American farmers. Every consideration is due the farmer in his present plight. He has suffered disproportionately. When, however, one takes a long look, there are reasons for encouragement. In a recent study on farm prices, Dr. George Warren find that, despite present conditions, American farm products have had a higher purchasing power since 1900 than before that time. While the increase is not great it shows that prior to the outbreak of the World War, the farmer was making some financial progress. More economical production and more profitable prices for farm products are essential, but economic prosperity will not of itself make the life of the rural community fully satisfying. Agricultural progress is to be found in the process of achieving on the part of people living in the country, in ever greater amount and juster proportion, the highest planes of wealth, health, sociability, knowledge, beauty and righteousness, which we as an American people have come to associate with personal well-being. We can accept no lesser definition of progress in country life than this."

BRYAN ROTARY CLUB SENDS FLOWERS TO ROTARIAN PARKER

The Rotary Club is ready to back the High School Athletic Commission to the limit, as a result of a discussion at the club meeting Wednesday when a motion was made and unanimously carried that Secretary Oak McKenzie be instructed to write the school board to that effect. It was also decided to have Ladies' Night Wednesday, the 22nd of February.

A committee consisting of Rev. S. Moylan Bird, Wilson Bradley and D. E. Moore was appointed to bring in a plan at the next meeting for the purchase or rental of a piano for the use of the club at its weekly meetings.

Gabe Cazell formerly of Mineral Wells, but now of Bryan, was one of those attending the luncheon Wednesday. Gabe sang "Farmer Brown" at the request of the membership. He is known all over Texas for the rendition of that song at Rotary Clubs. City Manager E. E. McAdams called on all Rotarians to report on educational questions submitted to them and the responses were very generous. A basket of flowers was ordered sent to the bedside of Rotarian G. Sam Parker at the Bryan hospital yesterday. This is a beautiful custom worthy of emulation.

Those present at the luncheon were: Gabe Cazell, President T. K. Lawler, Secretary Oak McKenzie, J. T. S. Park, City Manager E. E. McAdams, M. E. Wallace, Wilson Bradley, D. L. Wilson, Mayor Tyler Haswell, Sam E. Eberstadt, D. E. Moore, C. S. Beckwith, W. R. Fayman, Lee J. Rountree, Rev. S. Moylan Bird, M. L. Parker, Major Ike Ashburn, Coach D. X. Bible, C. E. Friley and Thomas Mayo.

NO SUPPORT GIVEN FOR BONUS AND TAXES FOR SOLDIERS BENEFIT

(Special to the Eagle)

Washington, Feb. 16.—with neither the tax or bond proposal for financing the Soldier Bonus receiving the general support and both regarded with disfavor President Harding's House leaders are studying the possibility of providing the necessary funds by slashing some of the annual appropriation bills. It is clearly shown that there is waste and extravagance in the federal government appropriations and many can be lopped off. If not there must be a raise in taxes to pay the soldiers. The administration is confronted with these problems.

MAN'S EDUCATION IS SAID TO BE RELATED TO NATURAL INTELLIGENCE

Chicago, Feb. 16.—The amount of education a man has is usually closely related to the amount of his natural intelligence, and the grade at which he ends his schooling is in most cases the farthest his intelligence will allow him to attain, according to Prof. A. Kingsbury of the physiology department of the University of Chicago. Dr. Kingsbury has just completed tests among employees of a large Chicago bank. Professor Kingsbury Tuesday gave a physiology class at the university the regular alpha test, and the class average was 146, said to be exceptionally high for this test. The average grade of the college student, he said, was 127. The students taking the test were nearly all upper class men. The average test of enlisted men in the army, he said, was 139, while that of officers was 163. The maximum number of points on the test is 212, but according to Professor Kingsbury, no one ever has been known to make a perfect score.

Committees were appointed to begin the work on the annual Pageant, given by the association, which will take place this year during the month of May.

Mrs. Albert Buchanan was unanimously chosen as secretary to the general chairman of the association. Mrs. W. S. Howell. Outlining the plans for the coming year, Mrs. Howell stressed the fact, that united effort will accomplish a great and lasting benefit for the Bryan schools, and pledged herself, as did all the executive board, to serve toward that end, to the very best of their knowledge and strength. The first open meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association will be held Thursday, February 23rd, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the high school auditorium. A splendid program of talks will be given, and music will be furnished by the Young Woman's Choral Club. At that meeting Miss Celia M. Crosse, the Public Health Nurse will outline the work she hopes to accomplish in Bryan and Brazos county, and other delightful speakers will make the program one of merit and pleasure. FORESTRY MEET AT HOUSTON SUCCESS

Major Page S. Bunker and Mr. R. F. Drietzler of College Station have returned from Houston where they attended the Texas Forestry Association meeting and report one of the best meetings of its history. It is to be regretted Mr. E. O. Isecke, State Forester, was unable to attend the meeting on account of the serious illness of his wife as the results of this meeting has been his ambition for a number of years. Harmony, good will and a get-together spirit was displayed by all factions interested in the practice of forestry. Mr. Bunker read the report of Forester Sieck before the meeting and Mr. Drietzler acted as secretary of the meeting.

CITY TAX COLLECTIONS.

A total of $61,433 in current city taxes has been collected for 1922, not including back taxes. The amount of current taxes collected in 1921 was $63,323, no back taxes included. Delinquency this year in payments reached 10.4 per cent as compared with 7.5 per cent for 1921. "The increased delinquency in payment of taxes is a result of hard times," City Manager E. E. McAdams said. Delinquency for 1920 was only about 4 per cent. From last July 1 to February 1, 1922, the following back taxes were collected: $50.63 due since 1917; $63.31 due since 1918; $76.40 due since 1919; and $792.28 due since 1920. Total $982.62. CEMETERY ASSOCIATION OF BRYAN ELECTS BOARD

President Adams Makes Annual Report on the Work of the Association For 1922—Old Board Is Re-elected For Coming Year.

The annual meeting of the Bryan Cemetery Association was held at Carnegie Library Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, with George A. Adams, president, presiding. President Adams then made his annual report, the same as submitted at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in January, and said that he was much encouraged by the work accomplished during the past year, by the association. Being the first year of the organization, much planning and systemizing had been necessary, and some of the work had moved slowly, but he felt that a roundabout for great things had been laid, and the near future would show evidence of the fruits of same. President Adams gave the praise for the work accomplished to the splendid co-operation he had received from the board of directors and their faithful service at all times. It being the time for the annual election of a new board of directors, Major L. L. McInnis moved that the same board be elected for the coming year. The motion was seconded by S. E. Eberstadt and carried by unanimous vote. Three additional members were added to the board of directors as follows: E. E. McAdams, Mrs. Albert Buchanan and Mrs. John E. Astin. The newly elected board for 1922 is as follows: Geo. A. Adams, Mrs. A. B. Carr, Mrs. Dona Carnes, Mrs. Edgar Covey, Fred L. Cavitt, E. J. Fountain, Mrs. W. S. Howell, E. E. McAdams, Mrs. Albert Buchanan and Mrs. John E. Astin. A report from the Grounds and Improvement Committee brought the good news that 2000 plants for the hedge around the cemetery had been secured for planting at once, the Bryan Nursery making the plants at actual cost, and the city commission donating the money for the purchase of same. Annual dues of $1.00 were paid in by many of the members present, and it is hoped that all will see to it that their dues are in the hands of the treasurer, Fred L. Cavitt as early date as possible. Mr. Freeman, sexton at the cemetery was present at the meeting and said that he was receiving splendid cooperation from the public in keeping the cemetery grounds clean by the use of the trash cans placed there for the reception of trash and refuse boxes, paper, etc.

TURKISH CAPITAL IS OVERRUN WITH POOR STARVING RUSSIANS

(By Associated Press)

Constantinople, Feb. 16.—Bitter cold weather and heavy falls of snow are intensifying the sufferings of the thousands of Russian refugees who have sought shelter and food within the Turkish capital and its environs. Their misery is great. They haunt the dark streets and alleys as night beggars and bread. There are nearly 20,000 who are utterly destitute. The American Red Cross, left here a short time ago. The refugees are now turning their attention to the embassies. Entertainments, balls and gala performances are being given by charitable persons in an effort to raise money for the unfortunate Russian outcasts, but the response is very feeble. The truth is life in Constantinople is so dear that only the well-to-do can afford to give any substantial help to others. The plight of the Russian women and children and old men is pathetic to the last degree. There is a shortage of wood and other fuel and many are dying daily of exposure. In addition to the Russian, Greek and Turkish refugees, whose numbers run into tens of thousands, Constantinople has to provide food and shelter for the Armenian refugees of Cilicia. Appeals are placarded about the city to move the population to succor their destitute brethren but nobody seems to worry about them. "Let the rich Americans or the League of Nations take care of them," is the general response. Sir Samuel Hoare, deputy high commissioner for the League of Nations, is here in connection with the International Relief Fund for Russian Refugees, with which Dr. Fridtjof Nansen is connected. His arrival has greatly heartened the Russians, especially General Wrangel and other Russian officials upon whom a great part of the task of caring for the refugees has fallen. It is hoped here the league will take energetic measures to ameliorate the grave conditions that exist.

Tom Calhoun of Little Rock, Ark., who is recuperating from a recent severe illness, is at home in Bryan on a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Calhoun. His many Bryan friends are glad to see him so greatly improved in health.

Sentenced Bad Man To Take Wife To Church and the Movies

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Church and the movies were named as twin curses for marital ills by Judge John F. Haas when Joseph Nowick was arrested on complaint of his wife that he violated the Volstead act too frequently. "I sentence you to a trip to the movies with your wife every day and to church as often as services are held," said the judge. He then assigned a bailiff to see that the first day's sentence was carried. "Take them to the first church you come to and after the service take them to the movies," he ordered. "All they need is to go around together a little more." Nowick promised to do this and reform and Judge Haas asked his wife to assist the officer in having the bad man obey the verdict of the court.

HORSE RACING IN KENTUCKY POPULAR PURSE IS $200,000

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 16.—More than $200,000 will be distributed in stakes by the Kentucky Jockey Club during the spring meets at Louisville, Lexington and Latonia, according to stake blanks issued by William H. Shelley, racing secretary. The nominations will close Feb. 21, six days later than last season. The Kentucky Derby, with its $50,000 added, is the greatest money race of the state. It is for three-year-olds, at one and one-quarter miles. Two $5,000 races, the Spring Trial for two-year-olds and the Proctor Knott for three-year-olds, have been eliminated at Louisville, and $25,000 added to the Clark Handicap for three-year-olds and upward cap for three-year-olds and upward at one and one-eighth miles, making this race have a $10,000 added value. The Kentucky Oaks and the Kentucky Handicap are the other $10,000 races, and the Debutante Stakes and Bashford Manor Stakes are worth $5,000 added money. The Lexington program is unchanged from last year and included five stakes and handicaps with $3,000 added and the Camden Handicap with an added value of $5,000. The Latonia stakes also are the same as last year, with the main stake races including the Latonia Derby mile and one-half for three-year-olds, and the Independence Handicap for the same age and distance, to which $15,000 each is added. The $10,000 added events include the Latonia Oaks and the Daniel Boone Handicap for three-year-olds and the Queen City Handicap for two-year-olds. Seven $5,000 races also are on the cards. Thoroughbreds that have been campaigning in the South and in Cuba and youngsters fresh from the stock farms in the East are arriving at Churchill Downs daily to make ready for the Spring Season which will open Derby Day, May 13.

OIL WELL PROSPECTS.

Dr. J. N. Goodwin and Rev. J. J. Tatum left Bryan this morning headed toward Keith, Grimes county. The Eagle is not advised as to the mission of Rev. Tatum and Dr. Goodwin but we sincerely and devoutly hope they will bring back some lurid oil well prospects. We can live on prospects for a few years, perhaps decades. "On With the Battle!"

On his 75th birthday Thomas A. Edison predicts that he will live to be useful fifteen years longer. If this is true perhaps Edison will have worked more hours than any man during the last 1000 years.

Sunshine Joe Webb says: "Crooks are stealing too much," says an official, who forgets to mention how much is enough." If the crooks would go to work they wouldn't have time to steal too much.

The Bryan Building and Loan Association is doing great work and will do even a greater work for home building in Bryan after the capital stock is increased from $500,000 to $1,500,000. So mote it be.

Texarkana seems to be some tough town. It is fast following in the wake of Galveston, San Antonio and Wichita Falls for criminal sensations.

Editor J. T. Webster, Jr., of the Paradox announces that the paper will devote more attention to advertising in the future. The newspaper that has no advertising and the business man who does not advertise are both losers in this day of strenuous business competition. Success to the Paradox.

Texarkana seems to be quite a tough place. Seven or eight citizens who are alleged to be "undesirables" have been whipped or tarred and feathered. If more people would go to work there wouldn't be so much trouble. Where hordes of men gather without visible means of support there is lawlessness, crime and debauchery.

Somebody was nitwitting "poor" Fatty Arbuckle for the expenses of his murder case for killing Virginia Rame. That's sympathy wasted. He received three times as much salary as the president of the United States and ought to have money to burn as he hasn't purchased a foot of real estate.

The newspaper boys at Calvert and Rockdale have named an oil well the "Tyra Sneed Well." Probably they mean "Tyra Sneed Well." J. Tyra Sneed was one of the leading men of his day and his father was Pev. Sneed a Methodist minister for whom Sneed's Chapel in Milan county was named. The Sneed family did much for Texas "in the days that tried men's souls."

An $8,000,000 check to purchase the Lincoln Motor Company was signed by Henry Ford. A few years ago Ford sent down town to buy a new silk shirt and didn't have money enough to pay for it. He didn't buy the new shirt and wears his old one to the party. Some slight remarks were made about Henry not being able to keep in style.

We have never been able to find out yet what Tom Perkins, of the McKinney Courier-Gazette told Secretary Frank Browder, of Denton, to tell Editor Will C. Edwards, of Denton, as they passed over the Rio Grande bridge into Mexico at Reynosa just ahead of Governor Pat M. Neff. Everything was closed "tight" when the party fully arrived on Mexican soil.

It is said that 30,000,000 people are starving in Russia. The Soviet government cannot save them and there has probably been less work done in Russia the past three years than ever before. The proposition that the government and the other fellow will provide money, food and clothing has ruined Russia and will ruin any man or nation on earth.

The Eagle sometime ago advised the bad boys and girls in Arlington, Texarkana, Goose Creek, San Antonio, Wichita Falls, Austin and other places to be good. It suggested to the hiackers, thieves, professional loafers and highwaymen if they escaped the courts for a number of years they might meet the tar pot. These things like hiackers have come home to roost. Perform and go to work and be happy is a good slogan.

State Press of the Dallas-Galveston News says the "gun woman" must go to the penitentiary. That's true. But the women are few and far between murders and highway robberies. There must be a stronger and louder demand that the man gunman, the hiacker, the highwayman, moral pervert and professional grafter and loafer must go. The world is calling for men to go to work and thieves criminal loafers and hiackers are the curse of the present day.

Editor Sam E. Miller, of the Mineral Wells Index, looks on the eternal Polo Pinto hills and sighs out of his heart: "Doesn't it give you a pleasant thrill to have some one slap you on the back and say: 'You're doing good work these days, old fellow, keep it up.' If encouraging words brace you up for greater endeavor why not pass them along to the other fellow? Try it out on the next friend you meet. He may be just a little discouraged and will hold you in higher regard always for it." Sam, we understand there is a "Brickbats for the Living and Flowers for the Dead Club" in mineral Wells.

MR. PATILLO BORN IN BRYAN FIFTY YEARS AGO

Hon. J. M. Patillo, editor of the Waco Labor Journal and a member of the Texas Industrial Accident Board was born in Bryan just fifty years ago today February 11. The editor of the Eagle is in receipt of an appreciated personal letter from Mr. Patillo who was for years associated with the late A. R. McCollum, of Waco, and one of the true noblemen of his day. We take the liberty of publishing a few excerpts from this good cheering letter: "I have just been reading copies of the Bryan Daily and Weekly Eagle. I have the kindest feelings for Bryan, for just half a century ago, I first saw the light of day in that city, but left there at the early age of nine. However, I remember some of the old citizens of that county, notably the Parker family, the Erwins and old Dr. Mitchell for whom I was named. Of course, there are others, but I cannot recall them just at this time. I have looked your papers over carefully and want to tell you, my friend, that the class of news, the editorial and the general make-up, and especially the attractive headings, all tend to give you a high class paper. I have passed through Bryan many times since leaving there four decades ago and somehow or another I have a longing to stop off some time and look for the old home that my family owned back in the '70s. In my mind I can see it now just as it stood at that time. I do not recall the street it was located on, but if it is there I am sure I could find it, but with the whirling of time I imagine not many houses, especially the frame ones, are standing that were there forty years ago. Again I congratulate you and wish you well for you richly deserve all of the good things in life that may come your way. I am temporarily located at Austin as a member of the Industrial Accident Board, but my home is and always will be in Waco, where I have a weekly newspaper and job printing business at this time. If I can ever serve you at the Capitol, you have but to command."

Pondrom, president of the City National Bank of Dallas, in an address to bankers of Texas assembled here today in the first district convention of the Texas Bankers' Association. Mr. Pondrom spoke on the "Fallacies of 1921." "We need more work and less talk," he said.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Here come the Edge boys and girls with six more new club members and again taking first rank in membership. They have scheduled a meeting for Thursday at which time officers of the club will be elected and plans for the year will be outlined. Some of the Edge club members will try for a part of the $400 prize money offered by the Ferguson Seed Farms for the best ten ears of Ferguson's Yellow Dent, surcopper, of chism corn.

Mr. A. K. Short, Agronomist, Extension Service, A. & M. College, gives the following suggestions for successful corn production: 1. A soil rich in vegetable matter. This adds soil fertility and stores up water. 2. A deep seed bed in the fall. This liberates plant food, stores water, and gives a wide feeding area. 3. Frequent and late cultivation to destroy weeds and conserve soil moisture.

Southern Ruralist, February 15, gives the story of A. L. Croft, Lavonia, Georgia, who sold turkeys at 45 cents receiving a total of $535.78. That amount is equal to seven bales of cotton, and it is stated that the turkeys cost practically nothing. Never so with cotton.

Mr. J. M. Conway of Route 6 is doing some terracing this week that will, when finished as started and directed, be worth a hundred dollars a year to his farm for the next five years.

The "movable" poultry school, visiting Tabor, Edge, Austin, and Reliance on Monday was quite satisfactory. The largest crowd in attendance was at Edge where 30 to 40 interested boys and girls, men and women listened to Mr. Kazmeier tell of the wonderful possibilities of the poultry industry in Brazos county. After we secured by Mr. Kazmeier the names of the Edge people for a special dinner, arriving at Kurten at 2:30 p.m. a school boy, delivered the following address: "Ladies and gentlemen, it gives me great pleasure to welcome you and the moving poultry show to our school. We do believe in moving in the right direction and we do believe in the poultry too. We are glad to welcome you to our school. We are anxious to get close enough to admire his beautiful plumage, but, unlike the flat-roofed fox we have no desire to devour him (thanks to our soup kitchen) in return for the great privilege you are affording us, we bid you welcome to our great expanse of earth and air, and sky. We can also show you, if requested to one of our fifth graders who is a hundred per cent English scholar, according to the latest statistics—examination. You may be interested in our young Americans who are ready to put forward the initiative in the form of a law to pension old worn-out school teachers and agriculturists. We can show you some famous law makers (in process of construction), and various other attractions of which, heretofore, we have been too modest to speak. Now like Washington, I hope our modesty is equal to our bravery. I thank you."

Following the address of welcome County Agent C. L. Beason introduced Mr. Kazmeier who spoke of the advantages of standard bred poultry over the scrub chicken, pointed out the characteristics of the leading breeds, mentioned the things essential to the greatest egg production and offered many suggestions as to the proper care and treatment of poultry. A very amusing incident occurred during the lecture. While Mr. Kazmeier was holding up a beautiful S. C. White Leghorn hen, having a record of 216 eggs, and pointing out the characteristics of the laying hen, he said, "now we will look in her mouth to see how old she is." It was stated that Prof. McDonald actually pushed some of the little fellows out of the way in order that he

Sam Corrobb, a progressive Italian farmer in the Prospect community is doing some good terracing on his splendid farm. He is also doing quite a lot of work in distributing some 15 or 20 tons of barnyard manure. To this will be added commercial fertilizer to suit his several crops. Mr. Corrobb is determined to build up his land by terracing, rotation of crops, and proper fertilization.

County Agent Beason is in receipt of a copy of a letter from R. W. Persons, assistant state agent, in charge of Boys' Club Work, Extension Service, to Norman Harris, club member of the Tabor community, stating that the committee had made its report on cotton club records and essays and that Norman was second in the contest for scholarship to the A. and M. College. We regret that Norman did not win, but we wish to congratulate him on the close race he gave the other fellow. It is hard to beat that bunch of Tabor boys and girls when they start out to win.

OIL MEN COMING TO NAVASOTA ON EVERY TRAIN

(Navasota Examiner-Review) Navasota is becoming quite an "oil" town, in a way. At least visitors are flocking here from all points of the compass to investigate the territory of Grimes county, which appears to have been heralded abroad as probable good picking for the fellow who first brings in a well. Saturday and yesterday local hotels were filled with prospectors and this morning the most of them scattered in various directions to see what they can see. We understand a well is going to be put down right away at point somewhere south of Navasota, and not over five miles away. The same company is accredited with having signed a contract to sink two wells. Then the understanding is that another company is under similar contract to sink two wells north of town, though not so close as those on the south. The two joints of pipe and tools at the bottom of the Singleton well have been side tracked and a diamond bit is being sunk to clear the hole and arrange for the four inch which will be put down from top to bottom. This week will probably be required to get the hole in shape to be bailed, after which there is no reason, that we now of, why it cannot be known just what is down there.

Rev. J. P. Brown, evangelist of Decatur, will preach at the Free Baptist church Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock. His subject will be "Prayer". He has been preaching at Kurten this week, and was at Edge last week. Enthusiastic meetings were held at both places. The congregation and the general public are cordially invited to hear him tonight.

SHERIFF MOREHEAD RECEIVES LETTER

Sheriff L. E. Morehead found a letter in his office door at the Brazos County Courthouse Monday morning with a picture accompanying it showing several tombstones in a cemetery with the words: "This is where you will soon be." One of the tombs is marked "Tom Wheeler," another "Martin," third "Griffin." The letter is given as follows as it was found: "Sheriff Morehead: You have been notified before that you wasn't wanted as sheriff. Your bondsmen is raising Hell about the way you are running things. So you ought to have sense enough to get out of the way. We hear there is a couple of fellows talking in your favor that will get their dam heads shot off. You know who they are. If you are paying those fellows for telling dam lies for you it won't do them no good as I will get them and you later. After the lexion you will move—if not we will move you once for all, so take us at our word."

GROUP VOCATIONAL NEWS LETTER—NO. 2

BRYAN AND BRAZOS COUNTY—STEEP HOLLOW, LEONARD AND SMETANA—(GROUP B)

Here we are again with lots of pep. The work in Group B is increasing. Part time courses, entertainments by the vocational classes, the purchase of purebred livestock, proper feeding, the use of books and bulletins, all mean that we are getting started. Let's keep it going. Call on the vocational teacher and the classes for any assistance that they may give. They will do their best. They will call your chickens, vaccinate your calves, help you work out your feeding rations, test your seed corn, or, if they can't do what you want done, they will find someone who can do it. They are out for service.

Steep Hollow is topping the list this issue with the credit of having had more prize winning poultry at the Brazos County Poultry Show than any other rural community in the county. In the Breeder's class Will M. Jones won 6 first, 3 seconds and 4 thirds. In amateur class, J. M. bond won 1 third, T. E. Bullock 1 second, Elmer Bullock 3 firsts, J. M. Conway 1 third, and J. M. Morehead 2 firsts and 2 seconds. More than a fifth of all the prizes awarded. Eight flocks have been culled. Two others are to be culled next week. On last Thursday evening was held the first meeting of the part time course. Mr. F. W. Kazmeier of the Extension Service talked on Feeding for Egg Production. Mr. T. J. Conway of the College will talk next Thursday. Other topics for discussion will be: Breeding Incubation, Growing chicks, Poultry Diseases, etc. There were 19 present at the first meeting. The vocational class is to furnish an entertainment next Tuesday evening. Most of the boys are getting their projects under way. Curtis Bullock has prepared a place where he may have green feed for his gilt the entire year. He is to get tankage this week.

Guy Tobias and Dan Hall are working out plans for all the year green crops for their gilts. They are finding out amount of land necessary, number of patches, rods of fence, and kinds of crops that will be suitable at Steep Hollow. Raymond Mathis has sold one of his 3 months old pigs for ten dollars. Raymond also expects to enter the feeding contest. Brady Risner and Hilmer Andrews are working on plans for the proper care of their gilts.

Leonard is crowding Steep Hollow close for the leadership in purebred hogs. There are now five purebred sows and one purebred boar in the community. Mr. Carlen Stuckey, one of the trustees, bought a purebred sow from the College. Mr. Stuckey also won second place with his old pen of Barred Rocks, in the Amateur class at the Brazos County Poultry Show. Mr. S. H. Luther, another of the trustees, bought a purebred sow from A. & M. Louis Rosprin, though not a member of the vocational class bought a purebred gilt from the College. His father is a firm believer in the idea that his purebred hogs require less feed for one hundred pounds of gain than do ordinary hogs. We believe that he is right. And the fact that purebred hogs gain more at less cost is the real justification for the purchase of good hogs. John Bink and Louis Pohille have bought tankage for their hogs. Proper feeding is as necessary as good breeding. Joe Blazel and Frank Civa have prepared special places for their pigs. Frank is to enter the feeding contest. Jacob Boriski expects to buy tankage for his gilt. He is now feeding shorts which are not as good as tankage, being low in mineral. Joe Paradoski prepared his land for his minor project several weeks ago. In addition to feeding out two shoates for his major project, Mike Lero is to have four or five acres of crop.

Smetana boys have added shelves and another table to their room equipment. They are doing more toward equipping their room than is any other class in Group B for its room. On last Monday morning the vocational class was called to Mr. J. H. Wehrman's to see a calf sick with blackleg. The next afternoon the boys and the teacher vaccinated nine head for Mr. Wehrman, and plan to vaccinate at least eleven more for other farmers. The teacher expects to send all of Wednesday morning, February 18, in the Smetana community vaccinating calves. Smetana has group of seven girls taking special work in poultry. The class is composed of Emma Kosarek, Katie Canill, Clara Wehrman, Mary Neme, Annie Cahill, Caroline Merka, and Richard Smith. The first three named are to raise Barred Rocks, and the others are to raise White Leghorns. The girls have made five egg testers and two mash hoppers. After the hatching season next spring, they expect to organize an egg circle for the production and sale of infertile eggs. Emma Kosarek had the third young pen of Barred Rocks, Amateur class, at the Brazos County Poultry show. Emma is prepared to furnish eggs for hatching, already having received many requests for eggs. Clara Wehrman has a nice old hatch for her chickens. Richard Smith is preparing to have one along with a new poultry house and vards.

The Smetana girls are taking sewing lessons under Miss Whitman. They take this work while the boys are taking vocational agriculture. At Mr. Haisler's suggestion, the pupils organized a literary society with 54 enrolled. Meetings are held each two weeks. The only concrete feeding floor that the vocational teacher has found in Group B is at Mr. Charles Merka's. Mr. Merka is anxious for the vocational boys and others to get the notion that it pays to feed purebred hogs of the right type. This year his meat hogs were fifteen months old and weighed about four hundred pounds. He says that hereafter he plans to feed out younger hogs. His experience has taught him that the right kind of hog can be fed at much less expense and at the same time produce enough meat that is of better quality. More than five thousand bulletins have been received for distribution in Group B. Let us know if you want some of them. Now is the time to begin testing seed corn. Let the vocational boys do it.—(The third number of the News Letter will appear in two weeks.)

Rural Life Conference Held At Millican Was a Success

(By S. C. Hoyle)

The interest in the Rural Life Conference being held at the school house in Millican was at the peak Friday when quite a profitable program was presented. The chief topic was dairying although other farm subjects were given due consideration while decisive action was taken in behalf of Millican as a possible community center. This program is under the auspices of J. H. Kraft of the Vocational Work, A. and M. College of Texas. A number of specialists from the college motored down to take part in the program while the Bryan Chamber of Commerce was represented by the versatile secretary, Sam Eberstadt, in his enthusiastic boosting of Bryan while at the same time offering cooperative assistance to the Brazos county communities.

The program opened by the presiding official, Prof. P. A. Deering, introducing J. Lynn Thomas, dairy specialist Extension Service A. and M. College of Texas, as the first speaker on the program, who was also in charge of the dairying program for the day. He gave an instructive talk on the possibilities of dairying to Texas farmers and farm homes and told of the work being accomplished in Texas as well as other states by the introduction of purebred dairy cattle on the farm and the excellent results being obtained by proper care and feeding of dairy cattle and the practicing of proper methods in butter production. He explained at some length the difference between farm butter, dairy butter and creamery butter and their relative value upon the market and pointed out to the school children present the value of training in dairy calf clubs and suggested the organization of one in this community. The audience then adjourned to the yard where Mr. Thomas gave a demonstration in judging dairy cows using animals from the community in this demonstration.

Husbandry R. L. Pou, professor of Dairy Husbandry A. and M. College of Texas was then introduced and told the audience what the college was doing and is prepared to do in dairy work. He specially emphasized the work done in building up the college herd by following college methods until Sunlight, the State Holstein Champion was producing 104.8 pounds of milk daily, or 22826.0 pounds a year, this milk containing 728 pounds of butter fat. He pointed out that after deducting all expenses of care and upkeep she had made a net return of $864.00 in one year. He then gave the figures from a Jersey cow which produced 64.1 pounds of milk a day or 11,025 pounds a year, while this milk contained 566 pounds of butter fat. He further said that the college dairy herd contained 80 cows giving an average of 28 pounds of milk a day, and pointed out that pastureage was the basis of the feed used. He then pointed out to the farmers that they had the same conditions around Millican as formerly existed around College Station and said that by following proper methods there was no reason why they could not raise pastureage and produce milk in such quantities that it might be taken to college by a truck and marketed since the college stood ready to take their butter fat and pay them all the butter fat brought retaining only the actual cost of butter manufacturing. He gave figures to show that milk which had been sent to the college had secured a return of 40 cents a pound whereas others were receiving at the time 25 cents a pound. He explained that this butter was to be used in the college, and the thing that makes the difference in price possible is that the college accepts only first grade cream thus making the production of a high quality of butter possible.

Mr. J. C. Patterson, the head of the rehabilitation work at college was then called upon and made quite an enthusiastic talk on the application of improved dairy methods on the farm and said that it would take at least fifty of the average cows in the community to produce a profit equal to that produced by Sunlight the state champion, and pointed out that it would be much better to keep a few profitable producers than so many boarders. His talk was interspersed with a number of amusing jokes and anecdotes which kept the crowd in an uproar and elicited much applause at the close.

The audience then adjourned to the yard where an abundance of barbecued pig and goat had been served, while an excellent brand of cake and stimulating coffee added to the enjoyment of the repast.

The afternoon program started off with an address by County Agent C. L. Beason on "Better Seed." Mr. Beason had secured two excellent ears of corn and two nubbins and in his usual interesting manner held the audience spell-bound as he told of the difference in the value of the two types of corn and gave information as to how the better type might be produced and explained the value of pure seed in corn production. He touched on the importance of purebred poultry, and livestock and presented many interesting figures to those present of the possibilities in the surrounding community, as well as in Brazos county should proper methods of seed selection be practiced with good seed adapted to the section.

Mr. Sam Cavitt, a prominent farmer from Wheelock was then called on to tell about the campaign for better cotton seed in his community, and made an interesting and instructive talk regarding the value of a better staple, pure seed and a gin properly equipped to gin one kind of cotton. He recounted the inception, and development of the movement and told of results obtained, and while he insists that he can not make a speech he made quite a successful demonstration to the contrary and received liberal applause.

Mrs. C. M. Evans was then called upon to tell her experience in producing poultry and brought down the house by "reminding" the audience that Mr. Evans was the speaker of the family and that she was the farmer." After giving some interesting facts she closed by inviting the ladies of the community to visit her poultry flock since she felt sure that she could talk better in a poultry yard than before a mixed audience. Sam Eberstadt was then introduced and told of the organization and successful work of the Tabor community and suggested a similar organization at Millican, which was warmly responded to by those present and arrangements were made for an organization meeting Friday night.

Prof. P. A. Deering and the teachers, Mrs. P. A. Deering Miss Lydia Bell Pieklin, Miss Dona May Carroll and Mrs. W. H. Smith, together with J. D. Battle and other leaders in the community are working wonders in making this rural life conference, a great success. There were prominent features, but the writer could not remain for the night program.

Since the coming to Nasavota Mrs. Mims has made many warm, personal friends. She was a loving mother and kind neighbor and her loss will be deeply felt by those who had learned to know her best.

SIX WHISKEY STILLS ARE IN BRAZOS COUNTY JAIL

Sheriff Morehead and Deputies Have Captured Them and Placed Them in a Cell Called "Bootleggers Paradise"—Grand Jury Convenes on Monday, February 13.

There is a certain cell in the Brazos county jail which might well be called "The Bootlegger's Paradise." Sheriff L. E. Morehead has come into possession of six complete whiskey stills, capable of making at least 100 gallons of whiskey per 12-hour day. The machines for making "licker" are crude to the last degree. One is made of a 20-gallon can, which sets on a fire, and an iron pipe coil, which runs through a water trough. The water is supposed to cool the liquid so that it will condense more readily. This still is capable of producing 20 gallons of "stuff" every day. There is another constructed of a 5-gallon oil can which can manufacture 15 gallons per day. The crudest still Sheriff Morehead has captured is one made of a one-gallon syrup can, daubed with dough and mud. But it can produce the "real stuff." About 15 gallons of red, white and varied colored liquor is being held in the jail. It is kept in cans, buckets, bottles and other receptacles in which it was captured, and a great portion of it is declared to be deadly. Some of it was taken in raids in Grimes and Robertson counties, but most of it is from Brazos county. In order to make an arrest for "bootlegging," the still used, the mash, and the whiskey, plus a permit to arrest, are required of peace officers under the law. There are 20 "whiskey" cases out on bond at present, which is about the same as the average number last year.

The public turns in very few "tips" to enforcement officers as to the location of stills. In no cases, it was asserted, do officers call the people who gave them the "tips," into court to testify against an acquaintance. The public is entirely too wary on 'his point, it was explained. These cases will go before the Brazos county grand jury, which will convene next Monday, Feb. 13.
